

Cantor's Corner

With the Olympics behind us and now but a distant memory, let's reflect on what it takes to be an Olympian and how that relates to the upcoming holidays before us.

To be an Olympian, one must be focused and have the drive to want to be the best in their chosen sport. Like Olympian's, we as Jews must also be focused and have the drive to bring justice, charity, and be of high moral character. These standards allow us to be the best people we can possibly be while we improve ourselves, family, community, and the world.

To be an Olympian, one must practice every day! We as Jews must practice each day too. We must remember to perform those skills and characteristics we want to improve upon. One of my favorite questions to ask when one wants to achieve a high level is this, "How do you get to Carnegie Hall? Practice!"

To be an Olympian, one must have the support of others. As a Jew, we do so much better when we have our family, friends, and our community behind us. In fact, you well know that there are certain prayers in synagogue that can only be said with a community of 10!

Here in California, we live in the "fast lane", we want everything now and don't want to wait. For an Olympian, they have to wait 4 years to prove that they are the best and during the 4-year wait, they have challenges that are put in front of them. They go through spiritual and physical pain and growth. As humans, we also have spiritual pain and growth as we travel on this journey called “life”! There are ups and downs and we take the good times with the bad!

At this time of year as we move toward the high holidays, we take time to reflect on our year gone by. What did we do each and every day to improve ourselves? Were we like Olympic Champions with a “can do” attitude? If we were not positive every day, what can we do in the future to be more positive? If we did not help others, give Tzedakah willingly, treat others as we wanted to be treated, or did not practice saying a blessing or two per day, what can we do right now, later and tomorrow to be more consistent?

During Selichot, September 24, after Shabbat, we begin the penitential season. During this time we ask for forgiveness from people we think we may have offended. Should we do this even if we are not sure we offended anyone and we just want to be sure that we can “clear the air” and have a great new beginning? This time of year, we ask forgiveness from our social group and with others we have interacted. As a community, we say together the Al Chayt...”for we have sinned”. We are not alone in this world and “we have each others back”!

Adon Olam, Master of the Universe, as we Olympians prepare for the upcoming New Year in the month of Elul, we blow the Shofar each and every day to remind us of what we need to do to prepare for the New Year. May we have the endurance and consistency to do what is necessary to become Olympic Jews!

It is “cool” to study Torah! Come to our Torah study session on September 16 at 9 AM, led by our own Joan Zak! “Be there or be square!” Our group is growing...be part of the discussion! REMEMBER: Cantor Jonathan Friedmann will be with us on Friday night September 30 at 7:30 PM. Don’t miss out! See you in September! Tekiah!

A Message from the President

I like to check the internet for interesting facts. Did you know Steven Spielberg is making a new movie called The Kidnapping of Edgardo Mortara \(2017\)

This is about the story of a young Jewish boy in Bologna, Italy in 1858 who, having been secretly baptized, is forcibly taken from his family to be raised as a Christian. His parents' struggle to free their son becomes part of a larger political battle that pits the Papacy against forces of democracy and Italian unification. – it should be a very interesting story.

That took me to know a bit more about Steven Spielberg. I found another website called Jew or Not Jew. It has a selection of categories, from Olympians, Actors, Directors, Scientists, etc. Check out <http://www.jewornotjew.com>

A sample web page is shown here, but you'd be very surprised who is and who is not Jewish. There is a short blurb on the person, but there are so many Jewish people and other interesting info. Give this website a try ...you'd be very surprised

J. J. Abrams
(Jeffrey Jacob Abrams)
June 27, 1966

One day, Steven Spielberg will retire.

Yes, dear readers, it is true. A day will come when Mr. Spielberg will stop making films and start enjoying his senior years, tossing the ball gold nuggets with his grandchildren...

What will we do? What director will we turn to with our unabashed Jewish love? Who will we defend through eternity even as their latest movie disappears us?

Well, J. J. Abrams seems to want the role, doesn't he?

First, he created TV's Alias and Lost. Then, he helmed the rebirth of Star Trek. And for the coup de grace, he cooperated with Spielberg on the terrific Super 8. He even calls Spielberg his "idol, mentor, and granddante".

So where to next, J. J.? After all, your recent TV endeavors have all been utter failures, and after you fumbled Mission Impossible 3, you decided not to direct the new sequel (although you're still producing)...

What, we said that we would defend you through eternity? Well, you're not Spielberg... yet.

Verdict: Jew.

This site for kids is loaded with areas of Jewish learning such as Shabbat, the Mezuza, Alef-Bet, etc. Have the kids try this one.

LEARNING IS FUN!

Let's Enter The 12 TIME CAPSULE
Everything in Judaism is about time. Now we spend it, react to it, use it, remember it and make it our own. Join us on as we peer into the Torah. Into time capsule...

All About SHABBAT
"I have a precious gift in my treasury," said HASHEM to Moshe; "Shabbat" is its name; go and tell Israel I wish to present it to them." (Tractate Shabbat 101a)
The very first thing in all of the Torah to be called holy is Shabbat. Learn why here...

Let's Learn BIRCHAT HaSHACHAR
"You don't have to be a macher; To know that Birkhot HaShachar, Are the Brachot that we say each day."
What's it all about?

The Written Law
If you thought the Holy books are all contained in the Torah scroll, look again! The 24 Holy books make up TANACH: Torah (the first 5 books), Nevi'im (books of the prophets) and Ketuvim (The Holy Writings, Scriptures). Take a tour of "TANACH - the 24 Holy books"

All About The JEWISH calendar
Did you ever wonder why Jewish holidays fell on different dates every year? They don't. Once one man asked another: "When is Chanuka this year?" The other man smiled slyly and replied, "Same as always: the 25th of Kislev!" This humorous comment makes an important point: the date of Jewish holidays does not change from year to year. Holidays are celebrated on the same day of the Jewish calendar: every year...

Sefer Torah
The Sefer Torah - a Torah Scroll, contains The Five Books of Moses, hand written on parchment. It is the holiest of all books of Tanach.

Let's Learn ALEF-BET
The Hebrew language uses a different alphabet than English. It consists of twenty-two letters. It's written from right to left. It's called the "Alef-Bet" because of its first two letters. And that's just the beginning. Learn to read and write the Alef-Bet. Peek at its rabbinistic secrets and print out coloring pages for kids to enjoy too!

Let's Learn All About MEZUZA
On the doorposts of every Jewish home, you will find a little rectangular decorative case. Inside that case is a Mezuza. It's not a superstition or good luck charm. It's there because the Torah commands us to affix a Mezuza on the doorposts in our homes.

And here's another website for those looking at Jewish heritage & travel. This site makes for some good reading in the news, culture, and general interest. This website is <http://www.forward.com>. The screen shot below is

When most of us think of Jewish heritage travel, places like Jerusalem or the Warsaw Ghetto come to mind. Yet, from the pre-Inquisition sites that dot Spain, to farming villages in South America, hundreds of forgotten or under-visited Jewish sites exist across the world. When we put out the call for recommendations of our readers' favorite overlooked sites on the Forward's Shmooze blog and Facebook page, we got a global range of answers. Not surprising, most of the suggestions were about Eastern Europe. From your recommendations and my own travels, here's an informal list of the top 10 Jewish sites often overlooked by travelers.

1. Jewish Museum of Bosnia and Herzegovina

The Jewish Museum of Bosnia and Herzegovina, located in Bascarsija, in old Sarajevo's Oriental quarter, is "by far the best Jewish museum I've ever been to," said Forward reader

You'd be amazed just how one website can lead to another.

Education REPORT

It is hard to believe that another school year is beginning at Congregation Beth Shalom. It is true. It has already begun. The Education committee worked very hard to freshen up our little school. I would like to welcome our newest committee member, Melissa Lindenbaum. I welcome back Jackie Williams, Renee Tieszen, and Sheila Marie Singelman. They are hard workers on our Education committee. Also a special thank you to all of our parents for attending our registration event. We have many fun school events to look forward to during this school year. One of which will be in October. We will be making arrangements to see the show, Joseph and The Technicolor Dream Coat on October 23. Everyone is welcome to be part of our group. More details will follow next month. This will be great time for all. See you around Religious School!!!!

Spirituality

High Holiday preparations are well under way. During the Summer Bash we gave out the packets for our High Holy Day service event. All members in good standing should have received one, if not please call me at 951-734-8045. The Ritual Committee will also be calling those members in good standing to come to the Torah for an Aliyah during the High Holidays.

S'lichot will take place at the synagogue on Saturday evening, September 24 at 6:00. There will be activities for children and adults, a light dinner, and a short service led by Cantor Bruce.

Please mark your calendars for Friday evening, October 7, for the second annual Shabbat Under the Stars, at our home. Dinner will be served at 5:30 with services afterwards. If you attended last year, and most of you did, you won't want to miss this one. If you didn't attend last year, you must come this year. The cost will be $5.00 a person to cover the cost of dinner. PLEASE RSVP TO JACKIE WILLIAMS AT 951-734-8045 or to sirdots@yahoo.com to tell me how many are coming so we don't run out of food.

Jackie Williams

The BIGGEST Committee

As you all know Congregation Beth Shalom is governed by a Board of Directors, Officers, and Committees. Among the committees are Legacy, Education, Ways & Means, Ritual, Social Welfare, Sisterhood, and the Brotherhood. Many individual members serve on these various committees and some members serve on several.

However, the largest committee is Membership. That is because every member of our congregation is a member of the membership committee. Members are the lifeblood of our organization.

To keep our congregation vibrant we need an infusion of new ideas, new energy in the form of new members.

We are always looking for new members and because of the upcoming High Holy Days it is the best time for recruitment. For example, look for our banner ad in the Press Enterprise's Best of the Inland Empire and at pe.com.

Therefore if you know of any unaffiliated or unhappily affiliated individuals, invite them to a service so they can see the warmth and congeniality of our congregation. By going a little out of your way, you will make us stronger.

As membership Vice President I am happy to speak to potential members at any time.

My cell number is 562-818-9137.

Capturing Israel

How do you capture 10 full days of touring through Israel without boring those who were not able to go? The synagogue trip was exceptional, of the 12 trips to Israel that I have taken, all but this one was single focused, to visit family and share experiences with one of our children...these 10 days on an educational tour was life changing, informative and well worth it. I can only encourage you to consider joining the synagogue when Cantor Shapiro travels in 2018 or early 2019.

Our tour included visiting at Independence Hall; Rabbi Sharon Shalom, an Ethiopian immigrant who became a rabbi that now conducts services at a synagogue founded by holocaust survivors; meeting soldiers; camel riding; relaxing and swimming; the bullet factory, and the beautiful sunsets.

Masada

Hiking to the top of Masada for Sunrise, followed by Ein Gedi, Dead Sea; Chocolate Factory; and Temple Mount Sifting Project.

A very special morning spent with seniors, who have mostly immigrants, with trade skills, and willing to contribute to society. They make a variety of artwork, and sell them through the gift shop. This program keeps these seniors very involved, provides them a solid meal, discounted health care and transportation.

Cantor Shapiro provides a special Shehecheyanu as we enter Jerusalem for the first time as a group. Group photo with founder of Keshet tours. Kabalah Shabbat.

A Mitzvah Project delivered!

On our last day of the tour, Renee Tieszen was able to deliver the 100+ quilts she hand made to the girls home. As Renee began sharing in English, our tour guide, Sarah Goldsmith and the director of the home translated, the girls soon became aware the beautiful artwork of quilts were for them. As we all were wiping the tears from our eyes, it was evident....these girls were very happy....and Renee truly did a mitzvah! We captured the presentation on video, and it plays on the monitor in the lobby of our synagogue. Each quilt was unique in style and colors. The girls loved them. One young girl took hers immediately to her room, put it neatly on her bed, and peeked back twice to be sure it was still there!

Israel is modern, and expanding rapidly, everywhere, below you will see cranes on high-rise buildings; a beautiful well run commuter train in Jerusalem; highways with protection (bottom left photo) showing the roadwork to prevent rock throwing etc.; our final dinner included guests from Keshet, the organizer, our tour guide and bus driver who made the trip so enjoyable. The bottom photo is of Yaakov Selavan on his last assignment, sharing with our group, as we overlook Syria. Yaakov officially exited the army one hour after meeting with us. He is cousins to the Spiegel's.

WHY Sponsor an Oneg Shabbat

In Ma*gein A*vot (You Shield Our Ancestors), the line with "oneg" translates to "sated with pleasure". What better way to get to know other Congregants than by "breaking challah" together? After an uplifting musical service, we adjourn to "Happy Hour"!

Every Member of our congregation is a welcoming tool of Membership where everyone benefits.
