

Cantor's Corner

What a great opportunity we have in Judaism! To begin again, to clear the slate and start all over is pure Genius, don't you think?

As we have concluded the High Holidays, let's recap where we began at the end of August. We started with a pre warm up in the month of Elul, followed by Selichot, Rosh Hashana, 10 Days between RH, Yom Kippur, Sukkot, Hoshana Rabba, and finally culminating with Simchat Torah...Rejoicing with the Torah!

Each year, I ask you to do one more thing Jewishly that you did not do last year. What is your next addition or change? Let me help you and it takes only one hour per month! We all have new perspectives this year due to all the experiences and learning we did last year. As we begin again, looking specifically at Genesis (in the beginning), we look at "God's creation of the world" and family relationships. Just this Book alone could take a whole year to discuss! I'd like to invite you to come to Torah study on the 3rd Shabbat of the month (Saturday morning) from 9 AM – 9:50 AM. Your opinion matters and I'd like to hear it!

The other addition you can make this year to your calendar is making a commitment to come to synagogue on a Saturday morning at least once per quarter. Here are some reasons why you might consider this:

1. It will make you feel better.
2. It will make others feel better.

3. It is a mitzvah to come and make a minyan so that others can say Kaddish.
4. We learn while we pray. We learn what we do when we pray.
5. You don't have to pray in Hebrew!
6. You will have fun learning new Shabbat music, clap your hands and perhaps tap your toes or stomp your feet!
7. We are a small congregation and need your assistance in ensuring that we have a minyan.
8. It's only a few hours once or twice a month and it is a gift!
9. If you don't feel like coming, come any way and then refer to number 1 and 2.
10. Please take out your phone calendar right now and schedule a visit at least once per quarter.

Adon Olam, Master of the Universe, thank you for the gift of Shabbat. "Observing Shabbat is a Mitzvah and it teaches us the preciousness of every moment of time." Help us all make good choices in this New Year and let's all make Shabbat at home or at Synagogue a part of our weekly lives. Please provide us with the opportunity and the time to grow, learn, and support our Saturday Minyan.

Come to our Torah study session on November 19 at 9 AM, led by our own Joan Zak! "Be part of the excitement"!

Let it rain on our parade (It is the rainy season now!)? See you all in November! Happy Thanksgiving!

Corona Public Library

Sam Silberberg was 10 Years old when the Germans invaded Poland, and occupied his hometown of Jaworzno. Hear this compelling first-person testimony of a boy's survival of two concentration camps, then his daring escape from the death march. You will hear a riveting account of a child's daredevil bravery, his pain and suffering and his remarkable ingenuity in eluding the Nazis. Imprisoned together, Sam and his father argued deeply with opposing beliefs about whether the Jews should risk certain death to escape, or to practice their spiritual beliefs and trust divine protection.

Amanda's Bat MITZAH Project

Hello. On March 4th, 2017 I will have the honor of reading out of the Torah and becoming a Bat-Mitzvah. As part of my preparation I am excited to do a mitzvah for the community. I have been very lucky that my parents have been able to provide everything I have needed for school. I do not have to worry about not having paper, pencils, books, or anything else. The mitzvah project that I chose is donating books so that other children do not have to worry about not having them. I will be donating them to the Settlement House, Corona library, and low income schools. I need your help to get all these books! The books can be anything from children's books, adult books, cooking, history, or anything else. I will be putting a bookshelf in the temple lobby (that my parents have donated) to collect donations. I am also going to be volunteering at our book fair during the Hanukkah bazaar. I hope to see you there. I will be posting signs at the book fair to encourage donations of both books and money. With the money, I will buy new books. My mitzvah project will start on November 1st and will end on January 15th. I feel this mitzvah project is really important because a lot of people are unable to afford books. Kids who read will do better in school and I am proud to be able to make a difference. Thank you for your help and support.

Felix Smith...Legacy 2017

I was born on January 2, 1939 in Boston Massachusetts.

My mother, Bertha, was the eldest daughter of Rabbi Raphael Victor Landau, a descendant of the prestigious Ciechanower rebbe, and Blume Landau. My mother was born in Lodz Poland. Her family moved to Fiume Italy during her childhood where my grandfather assumed the chief rabbinate of a small but vital Jewish community. My mother studied opera in Italy. Shortly after the family's emigration to the United States, she launched a successful operatic career with the San Carlo Opera Company of Boston.

My Zayde became a distinguished Rabbi in Boston. He initiated kashrut in Boston hotels and was a member of a noted triumvirate that included Rabbi Joseph Soleveitchik, the Rav, and Rabbi Abraham Twersky.

My father was born in Minsk Russia, the second son of Lazar and Sarah Smith. Following his arrival in the United States he became a principal tenor in the Yiddish theater, a Chazzan and a member of various Jewish choirs. My parents met as a result of their involvement in the Jewish musical community.

I received all of my formal education in Boston. I obtained my B.A., majoring in history and government, from Boston University in 1961.

Thereafter, I enrolled at Boston College Law School and obtained my J.D. in 1964. I met the love of my life, Barbara, of blessed memory, while in law school and we were married on August 4, 1963.

Following law school graduation, Barbara and I moved to Los Angeles in August 1964. After passing the Bar in June 1965, I commenced my legal career with the Los Angeles City Attorney's Office as a criminal prosecutor, advisor to the Board of Fire and Police Pension Commissioners and a civil trial attorney, specializing in workers' compensation law.

In 1970 I entered private practice and opened my own law firm in 1980. My office concentrates in the representation of public sector safety members in workers' compensation and disability retirement. I continue to derive both personal satisfaction as well as a sense of Tzedakah in helping those police officers, deputy sheriff's, correctional officers and firefighters who put their lives on the line for us.

Shortly after I passed the bar, Barbara and I were blessed with the arrival of our first born son Andrew in August 1965. Andrew is now a distinguished attorney and the senior managing partner of my law firm.

My daughter Karen was born in 1968 and is now a special education teacher in the Scottsdale Arizona Unified School District.

My son Michael was born in 1972. Following a career as a chef, having graduated from the Culinary Institute of America in New York, he switched careers and is now the principal legal assistant for my law office.

My children have blessed me with eight incredible grandchildren whose academic and professional successes as well as their love and emotional support, are constant sources of pride and enrichment.

I lost Barbara to breast cancer in 2012. Her death has left an indescribable void in my life. She would have been singularly proud of the great honor bestowed upon me as a Legacy Honoree of Congregation Beth Shalom.

I am particularly grateful for the opportunities that the Shul afforded me to lead davening during Shiva services for departed members and their families, as well as numerous Yizkor services. I am also grateful for the opportunity to assist the Cantor in World Wide Wrap events by instructing and aiding our congregants in putting on Tefillin and declaring that one should love God with all one's heart, soul and might. I truly believe that these declarations and experiences are prescriptions for a meaningful life.

Thank you.
Felix

A Message from the President

Well baseball season is almost over, but not until the hometown LA Dodgers play the Chicago Cubs. The excitement of the game will be history by the time you read this story. But I wanted to recall a very famous Jewish baseball player we all know who played on the Dodgers.

Sanford "Sandy" Koufax, one of the greatest pitchers in baseball, was referred to as the "man with the golden arm" or later nicknamed "The Left Arm of God". He established one record after another as he went through an 11-year career as a pitcher with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Koufax was born in Brooklyn, New York, on December 30, 1935, to Evelyn and Jack Braun. His mother divorced his father when he was young and remarried Irving Koufax, a lawyer who played an important role in raising Sandy and his stepsister, Edith. He took the children to the Yiddish theater in New York City and he was very supportive of Sandy's participation in baseball and basketball in Brooklyn's Lafayette High School.

Koufax, who loved to play basketball, was constantly at the Jewish Community Center shooting baskets or playing with a team. When he was 15, he pitched for a team in the Baseball Ice Cream League, where baseball scouts watched him with great interest. After completing high school in 1952, he went on a basketball scholarship to the University of Cincinnati. However, the baseball scouts were still after him and finally he signed with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1954.

REMINDER!!

Please no cell phone / camera usage during our services. This includes texting and reading text messages. Keep phones on vibrate or off.

If you are leading services, it is customary to dress appropriately (i.e. business casual) while being up on the Bimah.

In addition, it is customary to prepare a sermon on a topic to discuss or a short story of interest.

Should you have questions, please contact Noemi Schulman or Tanya Spiegel.

The first three years were hectic for Koufax, who had trouble controlling his fast ball. At times, he would walk two or three batters before getting the next man out.

Koufax convinced Dodger management to let him pitch more often. Under the guidance of pitching coach Joe Becker and Norm Sherry, a Jewish catcher, he learned to throw more curve balls and change-ups. The 1961 season brought him 18 wins; he struck out 269 batters for a league record. But the following year, 1962, was almost a disaster for Koufax. He developed a blood clot in his arm that almost cost him his index finger, but he managed to pull through and, in 1963, won two games against the Yankees in the World Series.

October 6, 1965, the first game of the '65 World Series, the Los Angeles Dodgers versus the Minnesota Twins. It's Yom Kippur night at Metropolitan Stadium, 47,797 in attendance. Sandy Koufax, lead pitcher of the LA Dodgers, refuses to play.

Koufax's refusal to pitch on Yom Kippur gained him the respect and admiration of many Jews. His courage gave many Jews the strength to not be ashamed of their Judaism.

If you want to learn to read Hebrew, contact Marci Rouman for all the details on this possible class. (951)733-3980 or Koolmarci@aol.com

Second baseman and 1965 rookie of the year Jim Lefebvre agrees, saying while the media might have made a fuss about Koufax's decision, the Dodgers simply didn't care. "Whatever Sandy wanted to do, we were all on board," he says.

"Most people admired Koufax for putting his religion before his job," longtime Dodgers broadcaster Vin Scully says. "I'm sure there were others who were furious, saying that he wasn't that religious -- and I don't think he really was -- but that didn't make any difference. It was his decision, and everyone respected it. They understood."

Koufax later said he did not agonize over whether to pitch Game 1 of the '65 World Series.

When a 1965 World Series game fell on Yom Kippur, Koufax requested that he not pitch on this holy day. Many criticized Koufax and maintained that his personal beliefs outweighed his professional beliefs.

A year later on September 25, 1966, Koufax and Ken Holtzman - the two greatest Jewish pitchers in history - faced off against each other for the one and only time in their careers. The game came the day after both had attended synagogue on Yom Kippur. Holtzman was finishing his first full season in the major leagues and Koufax was in his final season. The rookie Holtzman twirled a no-hitter for eight innings and beat the veteran Koufax 2-1. It was the last regular-season loss of Koufax's career. He retired at the end of the season, being plagued by arthritis in his pitching hand, but still won his third Cy Young Award for being baseball's best pitcher.

Koufax, who received the Cy Young Award three times (1963, 1965, 1966), was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1972.

Looking back, the famously reclusive Koufax is not regarded as a particularly devout Jew, but he never pitched during Yom Kippur in his career. In 1961, he did pitch a night game after the day of atonement officially ended at sundown. He threw 205 pitches over 13 innings while striking out 15 to beat the Cubs that game.

"Nobody said a word. Nobody thought a bad thing about him," says Wes Parker, the first baseman on that 1965 L.A. team. "We respected him because he was doing it because of his religion. He was being true to himself."

After retiring, he moved to the west coast and turned to broadcasting baseball games and to selling real estate.

By the way, Koufax wasn't the first prominent Jewish player to decline to play on Yom Kippur. In 1934, Detroit Tigers first baseman Hank Greenberg chose to sit out a game near the end of the pennant race. Greenberg's decision was more historically important because of the era in which it was made.

Sandy Koufax will always be famous for breaking records as a pitcher in baseball and not playing baseball on Yom Kippur and Rosh Hashanah.

2.4Kwalk

Sisterhood is seeking your help!

Dear Congregation,

The Sisterhood will be participating in the City of Hope's Walk for Hope on Sunday, November 6th and you are all (men and women) invited to join us by walking, donating or both. Of course, after we do this mitzvah we will be stopping for a nosh to replenish our energy. Below are the easy steps to get in on the fun and exercise.

I have created Team Tikvah on the City of Hope's Walk for Hope website. To join the team:

- 1. Go to <http://nationalevents.cityofhope.org/goto/Tikvah> (copy and paste this into your browser)
- 2. Click on the purple button that says "Join Our Team" and follow the instructions to register and set up your own personal fundraising page.
3. We've set a team goal of $1,800. Your registration fee does not count towards this unless you do an additional gift (which is tax deductible).
4. The key to success is getting the word out there and using the tools they have for posting on facebook and emailing to all your family, friends, co-workers, etc.

NOTE: If you can't join us on November 6th or feel you aren't up for the 2k walk, you can be a VIRTUAL walker and still raise funds for cancer research. Alternatively you can follow step one above and instead of clicking on the "Join Our Team" button you can click on the "Donate to Our Team" button and contribute that way.

If anyone has any trouble signing up or working though their personal page I'm more than happy to help. Please give me a call at 909-921-7231.

Our CBS Team has surpassed our goal of $1,800 and exceeded $2,000; please help us hit $2,500!!!!

EVENT DETAILS:

Sunday, November 6th in Duarte, CA
8:00 a.m. Registration and Activities begin
10:00 a.m. The Walk itself begins
10:30 a.m. Live Entertainment begins

Cost to Register by November 5th (everyone who registers gets a Walk for Hope T-shirt):

- $30 for Adults
- $15 for ages 12 and under
- $30 for Virtual Walkers of any age
- To register on event day everyone is $40

We will do the 2k route together as the 5k route is rather rough terrain.

If we agree to arrive early parking is on-site (or has been in the past). Otherwise it is off-site and we get bused over which adds quite a bit of time and delay to the day (not what I recommend). They have not yet posted parking details so we will have to firm this up at a later time.

I suggest somewhere fun like Spaghetti Factory for a late lunch afterwards for anyone who wants to join in.

Other

- No pets allowed
- Bring sunscreen
- Dress in layers - it's cool in the morning but usually gets warm before we are done
- They provide plenty of bottled water and some snacks but you may want to bring some snacks of your own

Education REPORT

What have our students learned at CBS Religious School this month? Here are the highlights.

- Our older students are continuing to read and discuss a novel called Number The Stars. It is about the Holocaust. This is the first exposure to the Holocaust for these students.
- Our younger group has been concentrating on holiday learning. They have been learning about the holidays through stories and arts and crafts.
- Our Confirmation class has been having some great discussions with their teacher, Renee Tieszen.
- Our Sukkot crafts are on display in our community Sukkah at my home. Many of our students and their families attended our Sukkot celebration at my home. It was wonderful to have everyone celebrating together.

Marci Rouman, Education Director

Spirituality

If you missed our second annual Family Night Shabbat Service under the stars and dinner on October 7 you really missed out on a wonderful evening.

We had more than 50 people in attendance, including more students than we have seen at one time at a Shabbat service. The food, prepared by NYPD and organized by Dennis Itzkowitz was delicious. We had a wonderful oneg hosted by Bob and Kathy Stone, Marci and Bruce Rouman, Renee and Sam Miller, Marcy and Bruce Shapiro and Jackie and Bruce Williams.

It was a night to be remembered which we want to do again.

We have come to the end of the High Holiday Season. Everything went very well. Thank you to all the congregants who had honors, read Torah and Haftarah portions, and participated in the services.

Thank you to Marci and Bruce Rouman for hosting our Sukkot dinner and service. Simchat Torah was joyous with Yizkor occurring first led by Felix Smith. We had two children in our religious school consecrated and danced for joy holding our Torahs.

Jew Jew Bees in action

The Jew Jew Bees started the New Year off with our annual Sukkah Sleepover! We gathered together and shook the Lulav, then enjoyed some Pizza in a Hut, some rather fluffy S'mores and several sweet treats!

Afterwards, the remainder of us slept under the stars, in a super sized tent!

Please check the CBS calendar for out next event!!

From Ronald H. Balson, author of Once We Were Brothers, Saving Sophie is the powerful story of the lengths a father will go through to protect his daughter and an action-packed thriller that will take you on an unforgettable journey of murder and deception, testing the bonds of family and love. Jack Sommers was just an ordinary accountant from Chicago - that is until his wife passed away, his young daughter was kidnapped, and he became the main suspect in an $88 million embezzlement case.

Pulitzer Prize, Fiction, 2001

It's 1939, in New York City. Joe Kavalier, a young artist who has also been trained in the art of Houdiniesque escape, has just pulled off his greatest feat: smuggling himself out of Hitler's Prague. He's looking to make big money, fast, so that he can bring his family to freedom. His cousin, Brooklyn's own Sammy Clay, is looking for a partner in creating the heroes, stories, and art for the latest novelty to hit the American dreamscape: the comic book.
