Cantor's Corner by Cantor Bruce Shapiro

Summertime! I can feel it already. Temperatures are rising, the school year is coming to an end, the next phase of businesses are opening, and so much more.

What's your plan for the summer months given that we are coming out of a Pandemic into a "New Normal"? I am hopeful that we will be able to return to a modified way of doing services in our sanctuary.

Martin Buber once said, "they do not confine G-d to a circumscribed space or division of life," religion." And Rabbi Shmuel Sperber (1906-84) added, "Religion offers answers without obliterating the questions...to question is a great religious act; it helps you live great religious truth." (Day by Day, Rabbi Chaim Stern).

How will we individually handle all of the life changes having to do with the "New Normal"? In Shelach-Lecha, the spies (Tribal Leaders) go out into the land and come back to Moses with a mixed

I want to say that we at CBS have totally embraced our connection with the digital world. Our school is on Zoom and that includes ALL levels of our students, from the "littles" through the confirmation class. Our Shabbat services are using It's technology that has kept us together, at least for the time being.

As we consider re-opening the synagogue, I asked Joan Jacobs to head a group to truly understand the issues of report. They describe what the land looks like (“a land of milk and honey”), who the people are that are out there, along with their characteristics (giants). Fear of the unknown grasps the leadership and the news is not so good.

However, two leaders, Joshua and Caleb, bring back good news! The dream of conquering the land in their minds is still possible! But, when you have two opposing views, which one do you believe? Which is the correct one? When we are unsure of what to do or if we feel powerless, how should we handle situations like those?

Although we must follow the “laws of the land” during this Pandemic and beyond, we may find ourselves in situations that may have “gray areas”. Do I go out to help someone get their groceries, go to the beach, shopping, eat out, or other activities we used to take for granted? We must see ourselves as ones who live our lives to the fullest, but we should do this by also being careful. We don’t have to “tempt fate” by being reckless. We can make sure that we take the proper precautions to protect ourselves and our loved ones.

These decisions will not be easy ones. Many of us want to jump back in to the way it “used to be”. Until we understand better what happened over the last three months we should be diligent. Live our lives to the fullest by doing what needs to be done and being careful while doing it. As we gain more information, we become more confident in our actions and the way we live, just as the Israelites did as they gained confidence after being in the desert for 40 years.

Adon Olam, Master of the Universe, there is an unknown future ahead of us. Provide us with the tools to live outstanding lives, helping ourselves and others. There are still many out there who need our help. Let’s be sure to continue to reach out to our “family” at CBS to ensure that “no congregant is left behind”.

“And this is the blessing with which Moses, the man of G-d, blessed the people of Israel” (Deut. 33:11). Be G-dlike!

Happy Summer!

EDUCATION Report Marci Rouman, Education Director

In early March, before the craziness of the pandemic, many of our religious school students attended a weekend Shabbaton hosted by the San Gabriel Valley Federation. The weekend was held at Camp Mountain Chai in Angeles Oaks, CA. This weekend was held March 6-8. Each student wrote about their camp experience and presented it at our class service. For those of you that missed hearing their thoughts, it is my pleasure to share these with you in this article.

Oliver Fusco

There were lots of fun games at camp and the counselors were nice. It was a wonderful experience.

Jonah Fusco

There were tons of activities to do at camp. I ate salad for lunch and dinner everyday.

Zophia Lindenbaum

On March 6 I went to a Shabbaton. We camped for two nights in Angeles Oaks, CA. The first night we stayed in our cabins, so we could get to know each other. Seven campers and two counselors were in each cabin. The Shabbaton was a great experience to improve my confidence and appreciation of my abilities to accomplish different things in life. We enjoyed a nice kosher Shabbat dinner together. After breakfast and Shabbat morning services, I went on a nature walk with my new friends. I saw beautiful trees and snow. This was a rewarding experience for me. It is not everyday that I have the opportunity to go on a nature walk. I am thankful to have had the opportunity to participate in this special camp weekend.

Arrianna Wolfe

A Shabbaton is a great experience for all Jewish kids. I have been going to camp for five years and every time I have a great time. This year, I saw my friends that I haven't seen in a long time. I also made new friends. We hung out the entire time. Camp is not just about seeing old friends. It is an amazing way to embrace your Jewish side. During an activity, there was a drawing of Esther hidden and it represented finding who you are as a Jew. I have never been a big fan of attending services. At camp services are so much fun. The fun melodies and spirit bring a smile to my face. As you know all great things must come to an end. This leads us to the closing circle. This is the time where we all link arms. We all remember it is not goodbye. It is see you next time. Camp is a great opportunity for all Jewish youth.

RJ Spiegel

My favorite part about the Shabbaton was being able to have fun with other Jewish kids my age and meeting new friends. I also had fun playing Ga-Ga ball and learning new songs. I want to thank the synagogue for sponsoring this event for all us to be able to go, we all had fun.

I hope you enjoy our students' perspective on the Shabbaton weekend.

During our last two confirmation sessions, we had guest speakers. They spoke on topics that we studied during the school year. The speakers were our own congregants. Special thanks to Tanya Spiegel and Karen Spiegel, Julian Sachs, and Molly Shapiro. Thank you for sharing with our students.

Who Counts?

The following was the d'rash that Joan Zak gave on Friday Night, May 22. It was well received and President Bruce Rouman suggested it be printed for everyone to enjoy, and obtain some 'food for thought'.

At our Board meeting last Week (May 17), CBS Member Karen Spiegel (Riverside County Supervisor) was a special presenter, giving us an overview of Riverside County's COVID-19 Status and plans. One thing she remarked on was how important it is to fill out our census forms so that Riverside County (and all of our counties) can receive proper funding.

Coincidentally, in this week's Torah portion, BaMidbar, the first one in Numbers, God tells Moses to assemble all the people and conduct a census. As the first chart shows, each tribe had an impressive number of people, detailing its population to the person. As you can see, there's a fair amount of variation among the tribes.

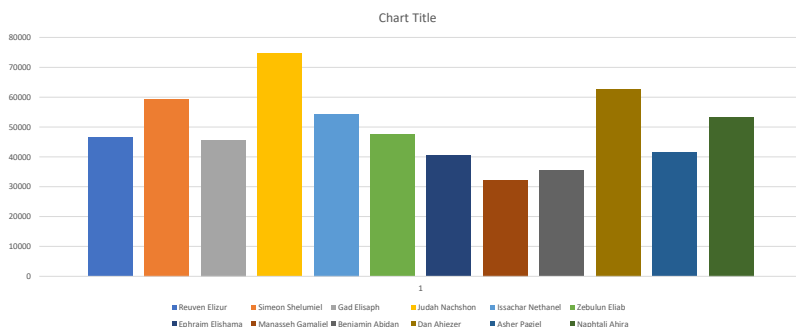

counting ourselves reduces each of us to no more than a number, but most commentators suggest that just the opposite is true. In commentaries in the San Diego Union Tribune, minority groups such as AANHPI, which stands for Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians and Pacific Islanders and Native Americans are saying that to be seen, they must be counted. Since resources depend on numbers, it's important for these groups and their neighborhoods to get sufficient funding.

It's the same in BaMidbar, which begins On the first day of the second month, in the second year following the exodus... After wandering for a year, we are beginning to become a people. The process and desired result of liberation is a society in which no one is reduced to an interchangeable number, but rather a society in which everyone counts and is accounted for. Adonai wants every single one of them to lift their head proudly, to let their face be seen in its utter uniqueness, and to know that they are equally worthy of love as any other child of God. The journey to the Promised Land is the journey towards a society in which we all remember that everyone counts.

We live in a world of numbers. We are known by our SSNs and PINs. Job performance and health are quantified and compared. We rank and rate universities, restaurants, wine, cars, and even dates. We are caller #27 in queue. We are 4th in line. We came in 3rd or 7th or 256th.

Original Tribe Census

Notably, the tribe of Levi is not to be counted in the census. They provide no soldiers for war. Their only task is to guard and protect the Tabernacle.

Fast forward 4000 years and we can see in the second slide, the Tribal Leaders, oh excuse me, the Supervisor chair-people and the relative populations of the counties where we live. Each chairperson has a lot more people to supervise.

A young bride shuts herself up in a bedroom on her wedding day, refusing to get married. In this moving and humorous look at contemporary Israel and the chaotic ups and downs of love everywhere, her family gathers outside the locked door, not knowing what to do. The bride's mother has lost a younger daughter in unclear circumstances. Her grandmother is hard of hearing, yet seems to understand her better than anyone. A male cousin who likes to wear women's clothes and jewelry clings to his grandmother like a little boy. The family tries an array of unusual tactics to ensure the wedding goes ahead, including calling in a psychologist specializing in brides who change their mind and a ladder truck from the Palestinian Authority electrical company.

The only communication they receive from behind the door are scribbled notes, one of them a cryptic poem about a prodigal daughter returning home. The harder they try to reach the defiant woman, the more the despairing groom is convinced her refusal should be respected. But what, exactly, ought to be respected? Is this merely a case of cold feet? A feminist statement? Or a mourning ritual for a lost sister? This provocative and highly entertaining novel lingers long after its final page.

Sheltering in place getting you down? Sick of binging on old episodes of this and that?

Well then, how about you come ZOOM with your CBS Book Club friends. Discuss the hilarious June selection - And The Bride Closed The Door and have a good laugh.

Where - Your place! When - June 15th at 5:00 PM

Don't just sit and mope about being "locked up". Grab a good book like our July selection - All Who Go Do Not Return, a look into the insular world of Hasidic Judaism. Then read the August selection A Rabbi at Sea. The story of a truly remarkable women who is ordained a Rabbi at age 79 and begins an extraordinary journey.

These numbers can reduce us to single-dimensional beings. In my department of Technical Support, if one analyst can't take a call, then another one can. Sometimes we feel like interchangeable parts. Yet, if you asked our manager, he could probably list names and characteristics of each person in our department. However, his department is given a certain amount of money for raises, and our boss has to partition the amount among the employees. Without an accurate count, that could be very difficult.

It's interesting to note, that Moses doesn't go around counting each person – 1, 2, ...600001. The tribal leaders count the people in their tribes. Given the counts, my guess is they would assign people to count smaller units and then that would be totaled. If we can even believe the numbers!

So organization into manageable units has been with us for thousands of years. With current technology, this is less important. The census is on-line and each person in the country can be counted.

There is a book called Watership Down where some rabbits have a method of counting. It's something like 1, 2, 3, hreir. I worked for a company that defined the hreir limit as 7 – the number of items a person can keep in mind simultaneously. The idea is to write computer programs that don't ask people to remember more than 7 things at once, and fewer is better. To raise the number of items we can remember, we group them and then each group becomes an item. For example a Social Security number of 331-12-9876 is remembered as 3 groups of numbers, rather than 9 groups of individual numbers.

This limitation is the purpose of forming groups. We can only recognize about 151 people in our lives. This limits the size of the group we can belong to, so that large organizations, like synagogues and businesses group into Chaverim and departments. It can also foster the "Us" vs. "Them" mentality.

Counts are really important to us. How many people attended a concert. How many people do we think will come to the next Legacy Luncheon. How many people can safely be together in a room.

In our lives full of depending on numbers, let's not forget to acknowledge and honor individuals.

Shabbat Shalom.

Jackie Williams,
Ritual Chairperson

Thank goodness for Zoom. We have been able to have Shabbat services and a Shavuot service with confirmation even though we have had to shelter in place in our homes. Thank you to Chelsea Williams and Amanda Williams for leading services on May 8 with Joel Williams playing the guitar. Thank you also to Joan Zak for leading services on May 22. Bob Stone will be leading services on June 12.

We are in the process of figuring out different ways to conduct High Holiday services possibly from the Bima and Zoom. We will keep you informed.

I hope everyone is staying safe and is continuing to stay healthy.

Challenging dominant scientific theories, he felt his vaccine composed of “killed” polio virus would immunize without risk of infection. After successful volunteer testing (including himself, his wife and children), national testing began in 1954. The vaccine proved effective without negative side effects. From ~45,000 cases annually before the vaccine was released, morbidity dropped to 910 cases in 1962. Salk made a conscious decision and neither patented the vaccine nor earned any money from its worldwide use.

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED

On Sunday, May 24, during Memorial Day weekend, the Spiegel Family with help from a couple of friends placed 1,500 American flags on the graves of those men and women buried in Riverside National Cemetery.

After learning the traditional organized ceremony would not take place due to Coronavirus, they made it a family affair. The first focus was the newer section, where burials were as recent as last week. "This was their first Memorial Day." As we moved to Section 58, RJ spotted several graves of Jewish War Heroes.

Legacy Luncheon 2021 Honorees

Congregation Beth Shalom is proud to announce our 2021 honorees for the upcoming Sunday, March 7 event—Legacy Luncheon Awards Ceremony.

Longtime member Sol Shapiro will be the coveted Legacy Award. Peabody Engineering will be presented the Shatuf Tzedek Award (Business Partner) and MaryAnn Sherman will be honored with the Shomer Tzedek Award (Guardian of Righteousness).

In future newsletters, we will be highlighting each of these honorees.

Additionally, the grove of trees we purchase for the Legacy Luncheon will be named in honor of all Front-Line Responders. The current pandemic of COVID-19 has been a real "eye-opener" and we want to honor the local heroes who are dedicated to the health of our loved ones. As a further step, this grove will also honor those persons who stock the shelves of grocery stores, the truck drivers who deliver the products to the stores, the manufacturers who have provided essential services and products. Some of these manufacturers have re-invented themselves to shift their manufacturing plants to make much needed items.

The Legacy Committee is chaired by Renee Miller and Marci Rouman and if you are interested in becoming part of this annual fundraiser, please connect with either:

I Just Don't Know

I don't know which Yom Tov it is.

We're walking around in slippers like it's Tisha B'Av.

We're wearing masks like it's Purim.

We're trembling like it's Rosh HaShana.

We're hungry like it's Yom Kippur.

We're only allowed to eat outside like it's Sukkos.

We're sitting by the window like it's Chanukah.

We're eating fruits like it's Tu B'Shvat.

Everyone is walking around with cleaning wipes, like it's Erev Pesach.

And we're eating meals with our families and we're sleeping until noon like it's Shabbos.

So, what holiday is this? Cause I'm ready to make Havdalah NOW!

Remembering Margot Antonetty

With mixed emotions we are sharing that our dear cousin Margot Antonetty is now reunited with her loved ones in heaven. We have some thoughts that we wish to share with all of you on behalf of the Spiegel Family, Margot's first cousins.

Hearing from co-workers, especially the "amazing 6", social friends and others, we are comforted that the beautiful, vibrant, healthy and determined Margot that we know, love and appreciate, truly made a positive impact in her community. Through her work, outreach and support of those in need and less fortunate; she never really knew a stranger.

Margot visited CBS whenever she was down from San Francisco, and so enjoyed everyone. She loved the various simchas. Margot traveled with CBS on the Inaugural Trip to Israel. She was so inspired and thought of relocating to Israel.

When we are able, we will post a eulogy (on Facebook) and additional information as we have it. For now, we want to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for each of you who prayed, shared our post and truly loved our family. If we can be so bold to ask two things of each of you: Please continue to pray for all those who knew Margot (allow them to focus on all the positive impact that she accomplished in her life); and please take a moment to call your loved ones, share with them how much you love them, it could be the best messaging they receive.

Thank you all,

The Spiegel Families

reopening so that we still retain the safety required by social distancing and items we all want to touch like prayer books, etc.

Please expect some small changes as the plans are implemented. While the committee's plans are in the making, it's probably safe to say that we will be blocking off some chairs to allow small or large families to sit together. Also hand sanitizer will be in several locations about the synagogue. We will be coming up with some new policies on kitchen usage and food.

For those of you that want to still use Zoom even after we re-open, we are looking into continuing this for some time while services will be held at synagogue. More on this next month.

We want everyone walking into CBS to be in good health from the start, that means nobody with colds, temperatures, coughs, etc. For sure these are signs to stay home.

I'm certain that we will all enjoy our High Holy Days together in the fall. We have the ability to move on a dime due to our size. Many synagogue's much larger have bigger problems getting back to normal. So please help where you can, be observant to some new signage in the facility and consider these changes the new normal until this event blows over.

On behalf of the Board of Directors
we extend our heartfelt condolences to the entire

Recommended items for a Basic Emergency Supply Kit

Through its Ready Campaign, the Federal Emergency Management Agency educates and empowers Americans to take some simple steps to prepare for an respond to potential emergencies, including natural disasters and terrorist attacks. Ready asks individuals to do three key things: get an emergency supply kit, make a family emergency plan and be informed about the different type of emergencies that could occur and their appropriate responses.

All Americans should have some basic supplies on hand in order to survive for at least three days if an emergency occurs. To the right side, is a listing of some basic items that every emergency supply kit should include. However, it is important that individuals review this list and consider where they live and the unique needs of their family in order to create an emergency supply kit that will meet these needs. Individuals should also consider having at least two emergency supply kits, one full kit at home and a smaller portable kits in their workplace, vehicle or other places they spend time.

Recommended Items to Include in a Basic Emergency Supply Kit:

Water, one gallon of water per person per day for at least three days, for drinking and sanitation

Food, at least a three-day supply of non-perishable food

Battery-powered or hand crank radio and a NOAA Weather Radio with tone alert and extra batteries for both

Flashlight and extra batteries

First aid kit

Whistle to signal for help

Dust mask, to help filter contaminated air and plastic sheeting and duct tape to shelter-in-place

Moist towelettes, garbage bags and plastic ties for personal sanitation

Wrench or pliers to turn off utilities

Can opener for food (if kit contains canned food)

Friday Night Services with CBS are Interesting

Join us on Friday nights Via Zoom and experience a rich variety of services

- ◆ The first Friday night of the month is a 6:30 PM Family Service.
 - ◆ Cantor Shapiro will lead services and celebrate birthdays and anniversaries during the first Friday Services.
- ◆ All other services are at 7:30 PM.
- ◆ The First, Third and Fifth Fridays and Third Saturday of the month are Cantor-led services (except during the month of July).
 - ◆ The Cantor adds a professional touch: the services are very interactive with participation from those in attendance.
- ◆ The Second and Fourth Friday Services may be led by:
 - ◆ Religious School and Confirmation students and teachers
 - ◆ Regular Lay Leaders (Bob Stone and Joan Zak)
 - ◆ YOU!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
- ◆ Special Occasion Services
 - ◆ Shabbat Under the Stars—Enjoy a potluck meal and outdoor service
 - ◆ Shabbat Across America—A special service honored all over our country
