Cantor's Corner

by Cantor Bruce Shapiro

Seems like yesterday that we just completed the High Holidays and you turn around and this month starts the festival of lights, Hanukah! Hanukah is a time of rededication and that is the “literal meaning” of Hanukah. This holiday recalls the time when the Maccabi’s (led by Judah the Maccabi) defeated the Syrian-Greek “interlopers” and restored the Holy Temple in Jerusalem to the “service of G-d”.

Like the Maccabi’s, what have you done more Jewishly than you have done in the past? Or what will you rededicate yourself to Jewishly to assist you on your journey in life that you can enjoy?

I have been approached by a few congregants who would like to “rededicate” themselves to learning more about davening and would like to have an Adult B’Nai Mitzvah. For those interested, please let me know via email or phone/text.

KRISTALLNACHT, THE NIGHT OF THE BROKEN GLASS

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 2021

Congregation Beth Shalom (CBS) continues its long-lasting educational program on the horrific Holocaust and the beginning of the destruction of Jews in Germany with its annual Kristallnacht event. Translated as the Night of the Broken Glass, the event for 2021 will be in person at the Corona Historic Civic Center Theater (815 W 6th, Corona, CA 92882) with doors opening at 6:00 PM.

This year’s featured speaker is author Joel Poremba who will share about his beloved father, Nathan Poremba, a Holocaust Survivor who passed away last month. Joel’s message will reflect the many conversations he had with his father.

This event is open to the public. If you are interested in assisting, contact Tanya Spiegel (951) 751-9841.

It will take a commitment of attending services, spending time practicing the Hebrew alphabet, reading, and eventually chanting. This is an admirable journey to help continue learning and growing Jewishly.

Recently, I watched two old movies with great messages. Both are true stories. The first one was "Radio" with an all start cast and the 2nd was "Greater", the story of Brandon V. Bulsworth, who was going to be an NFL starter for the Colts back in the late 1990's.

"Radio", starring Ed Harris and Cuba Gooding, Jr. reminds me that doing a mitzvah for the reward is not the reason for doing the mitzvah. When we help others, when we do good deeds, we complete them in the "service of Hashem". If we do it for the reward or even to be praised, we are doing it for the wrong reason. It is an intricate and complex struggle for Ed Harris's character, but ultimately, he makes the "right" decision for the person he is helping as well as his family.

In "Greater", Brandon Bulsworth shows us from a young age what a good work ethic, hope, dedication to family, and a deep faith in G-d will help you achieve. This is a heart-wrenching and heart-warming story with a few twists and turns, but ultimately Brandon's efforts from the 1990's are still paying off in the form of good deeds today!

Adon Olam, Master of the Universe, as we approach Hanukkah, may we rededicate ourselves to community belonging, working and helping others in Your service, and may we all enjoy the light which shines forth from our Hanukiyot and from within during the "Festival of Lights".

I am looking forward to seeing you all in person or on Zoom soon! Make a visit on any Friday evening for Shabbat or once per month on the 3rd Shabbat of the month for Torah Study and morning services. Please continue to stay healthy and wear a mask as required.

President's Message Chanukah—A world of Traditions

Bruce Rouman
President of CBS

As Chanukah nears, I want to express my gratitude and thanks to all of you who have helped with our numerous chores and behind the scenes work to keep our little shul functioning. This month, I am sharing some beautiful photos and short descriptions about how Chanukah is celebrated in different countries around the world. These selection sources are from the Daily Meal Story about Chanukah by Shannon Darnall.

In Australia, Chanukah is more about togetherness than anything else. Families will spend the night at home to light the candles with their loved ones, followed by a day of celebration with the surrounding community. Because Chanukah takes place during the Southern Hemisphere summer, some Jews even hold block parties to gather and commemorate the “festival of lights.” Chocolate gelt crinkle cookies - a chewy, intensely flavored chocolate cookie, reminiscent of brownies, are served. To round out the Chanukah cookie theme, top them with chocolate gelt made from real Belgian dark chocolate.

The first Jews arrived in Kaifeng, one of the capitals of Imperial China, during the eighth or ninth century. They built a large synagogue; during its peak the temple hosted a large gathering from the community of 5,000 Kaifeng Jews. However, the population completely dwindled by the mid-nineteenth century. The establishment of diplomatic relations between China and Israel in 1992 rekindled an interest in Judaism, prompting a revival. Kaifeng Jews who had left the country now returned, celebrating Chanukah by lighting menorahs and hosting gatherings for prayer.

London's Trafalgar Square lights up every year with a giant menorah. The lighting has become an annual event drawing thousands of spectators. London alone is home to over 250,000 Jews, and England is home to even more Jewish citizens celebrating all over the country.

More than 6 million Jews died in the Holocaust due to ethnic cleansing ordered by Nazi Germany. The country has since attempted to make reparations for the immense damage inflicted on the Jewish culture both within their borders and without, though most agree it is impossible to fully repair. In honor of the Jewish community in Germany, a large menorah is lit in front of Berlin's Brandenburg Gate to replace the memories of anti-Semitic rallies that occurred in the same spot before and during the Second World War.

There are 33 synagogues in India and a vibrant Jewish community. Indian Jews don't light wax-covered candles — instead, they dip wicks in coconut oil. Instead of the latkes common in Ashkenazi culture, Chanukah in India often features barfi, a milk-based treat enhanced with sweet fruits.

Chanukah—A world of Traditions

Jews have lived in Italy ever since 160 B.C.E., when a group arrived in Rome. The city celebrates elaborately with a massive menorah lit at Piazza Barberini. The Hanukkah is 20 feet tall and always draws a crowd.

The Italians also dine on precipizi, small fried balls of dough sweetened with warm honey. They feast on these treats with wine.

You won't find many latkes in the Jewish kitchens of Morocco during Chanukah. Instead, you'll find citrus-flavored doughnuts, called sfenj, made with orange juice and zest. Oranges have become affiliated with Chanukah in Morocco because the famous Jaffa oranges come into season during the late fall and early winter. A platter of chicken levivot, which means Latke, chicken-and-herb fritters is shown.

In Istanbul, Jews often celebrate by singing a unique song called "Ocho Candelas" written in honor of the menorah's eight candles in the Ladino dialect used by Sephardic Jews who fled oppression in Spain for sanctuary under the Turkish government. They also indulge in a food called "burmelos," fritters that are made similarly to traditional latkes.

Canadians have been celebrating Chanukah since 1760, when the first Jews were allowed to immigrate. They celebrate the holiday as more of a secular tradition than a religious observance, exchanging gifts and eating the foods traditionally made in whatever country each family originally came from.

Chanukah in Canada looks much like it does in the United States, a melting pot of traditions based on the practices of immigrants from all over the world. Traditional poutine is a Canadian special of French fries and cheese curds smothered in gravy. For Kosher poutine substitute shredded fresh mozzarella to replace the curds and parmesan 'gravy'.

One of the most famous and popular dishes in Jewish Roman cuisine are the fried artichokes known as "Carciofi alle giudea".

And the Jewish Quarter in Rome is a favorite visiting spot for many.

On all eight nights of Chanukah, the streets of Jerusalem are aglow. The custom is to display your family's menorah for the neighborhood to see — many houses in Jerusalem have cutouts in the wall specifically designed for this purpose.

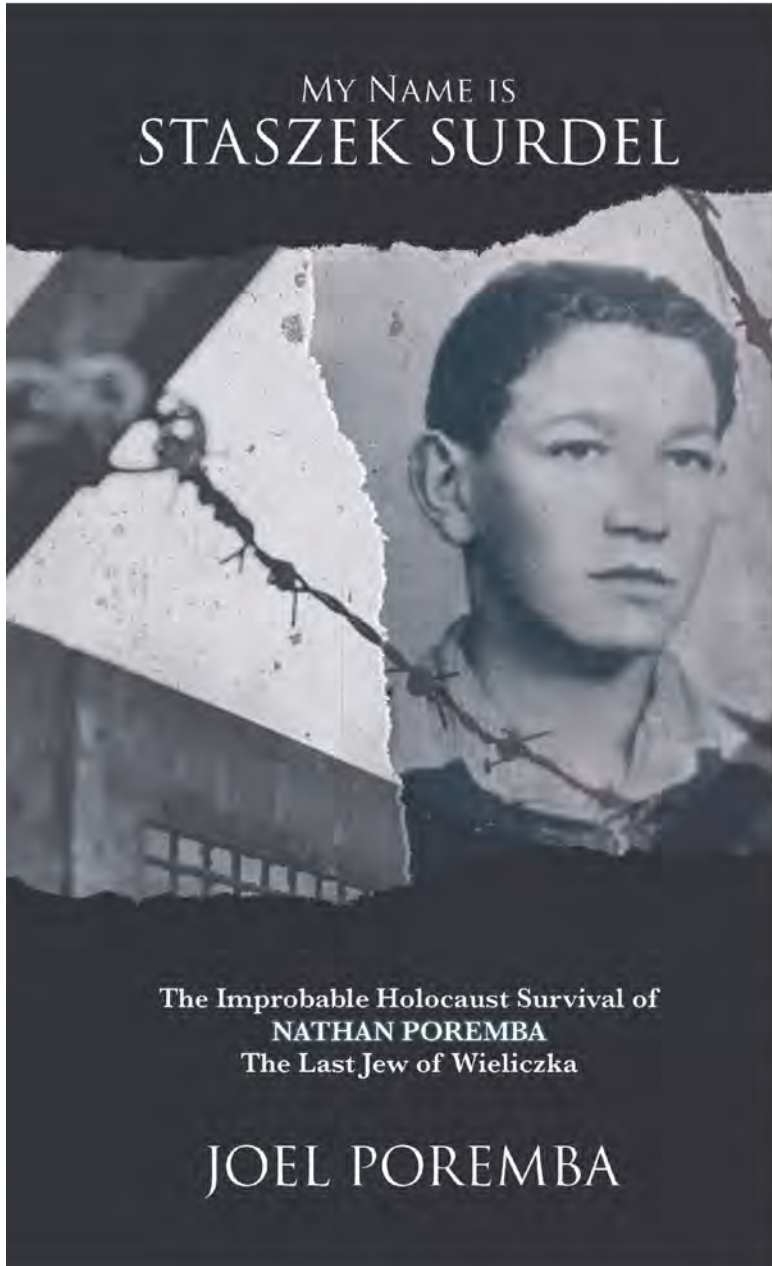

For nourishment, Israeli Jews turn to latkes and sufganiyot (round jelly doughnuts). Both foods are greasy, fried in oil to symbolize the oil used by the ancient Jews to light the temple.

KRISTALLNACHT COMMEMORATION

Monday, November 8, 2021

6:30 p.m. - Doors open at 6 p.m.

Corona Historic Theater

815 W. Sixth Street, Corona, CA

This is the story of Holocaust survivor, Nathan Poremba, a story that explores survival, tragedy and hope against the backdrop of the resilience of a nine year old Polish Jew between 1939 and 1945. Alone and without help for most of the Holocaust, Nathan's six-year survival necessitated avoiding detection while maintaining an unflinching resolve to live despite the threats that enveloped his every move. His unmatched resilience is a testament to his will to live. Throughout, Nathan never acquiesced to antisemitism and he consistently resisted his tormentors as his father did before the Holocaust.

His son, Joel Poremba, now tells his father's heroic story of Nathan Poremba's six-year survival.

Trash Clean Up Nears 50 Pounds!

Focused on cleaning up after others, Oliver Fusco took his passion for the environment to become his Bar Mitzvah project. On a sunny October 3, Oliver coordinated a clean up day for the property surrounding Congregation Beth Shalom. Touring the facility, it did not appear that much trash was there. However, by soliciting the help of the Religious School students and teachers and synagogue members, the 90-minute clean up netted just shy of 50 pounds of trash! It is evident, through the eyes of our youth, we can learn more. We are honored to have Oliver bring this important task to CBS. Cleaning up occasionally will enhance our property and it looks so much better.

C.B.U. VISITS C.B.S.

Just prior to the Erev Shabbat Service on October 15, Cantor Bruce Shapiro and C.B.S. welcomed students from California Baptist University (C.B.U.). The C.B.U. students are taking a comparative religion class, and were intrigued with the Jewish practices.

Here's a photo with students from C.B.U. as Cantor Bruce Shapiro shows the Torah to students. The students joined our congregation for Shabbat services and the oneg following.

"One of the most important roles in any administration is that of First Friend, the person a president can trust completely. . . . Gary Ginsberg has woven together fascinating stories and remarkable insights. His lessons are important not just for studying the presidency but also for understanding leadership and life."

GARY GINSBERG

FIRST FRIENDS

The Powerful, Unsung (And Unelected) People
Who Shaped Our Presidents

Here are the riveting histories of myriad presidential friendships, among them:

Abraham Lincoln and Joshua Speed: They shared a bed for four years during which Speed saved his friend from a crippling depression. Two decades later the friends worked together to save the Union.

Harry Truman and Eddie Jacobson: When Truman wavered on whether to recognize the state of Israel in 1948, his lifelong friend and former business partner intervened at just the right moment with just the right words to steer the president's decision.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Daisy Suckley: Unassuming and overlooked during her lifetime, Daisy Suckley was in reality FDR's most trusted, constant confidant, the respite for a lonely and overworked president navigating the Great Depression and World War II.

John Kennedy and David Ormsby-Gore: They met as young men in pre-war London and began a conversation over the meaning of leadership. A generation later the Cuban Missile Crisis would put their ideas to test as Ormsby-Gore became the president's unofficial but most valued foreign policy advisor.

These and other friendships - including Thomas Jefferson and James Madison, Franklin Pierce and Nathaniel Hawthorne, and Bill Clinton and Vernon Jordan - populate this fresh and provocative exploration of a series of seminal presidential friendships.

Publishing history teems with books by and about presidents, first ladies, first pets, and even first chefs. Now former Clinton aide Gary Ginsberg breaks new literary ground on Pennsylvania Avenue and provides fresh insights into the lives of the men who held the most powerful political office in the world by looking at the friends on whom they relied.

First Friends is an engaging, serendipitous look into the lives of commanders in chief and how their presidencies were shaped by those they held most dear.

Things to Know About Zoom

Zoom was introduced in a rapid manner to enable our CBS members and friends to continue their Jewish observances, education and participation in activities during the Pandemic. Our use of the Zoom program was the entry into CBS using computers to bring our services into the homes of our members and friends. Little did we know this would be around for almost 2 years. The system we assembled was a gently used Canon camera that was donated along with a used iMac computer - another donated item and some purchased cables. We made the best system we could possibly assemble on our budget and in-house talent.

We have used our Zoom system for meetings and services, but sometimes things don't go as planned. Our volunteers are just that. And the folks using Zoom are not pros using the program –we just expect little mishaps along the way, therefore please pardon our inexperience. Please remember to mute yourself when you are not speaking / leading a prayer.

Via Zoom EXPECT:

1. Expect occasional technical problems with audio, video, shutting down, losing connections, windows not displaying correctly, or moving from one spot to another, etc.
2. Thanks to Josh Spiegel and Tanya Spiegel who along with Bruce Rouman hard-wired the Zoom camera and computer. This should lessen interference with the Zoom feeds to everyone's computer, iPad or phone!
3. If things don't appear right on your Zoom screen, please let someone know who can help. Bruce Rouman (951) 847-4632 and Joan Zak (760) 803-5451 are good resources for help.
4. We can't all talk at the same time, please be patient for your turn to speak.
5. Please extend patience to all participants, everyone is doing their best, but may occasionally make unintentional mistakes.

CBS continues to be open for services, activities and events for all members and guests both in the synagogue and simultaneously on Zoom.

1. We will continue to sit socially distanced in the sanctuary.
2. Face masks are encouraged indoors because of the increasing number of new COVID-19 cases in or near our community.
3. The front door is locked 15 minutes after services begin. If you arrive when the door is locked, please ring the bell for admittance.
4. Remember that MOST, but not ALL, of our congregants have been fully vaccinated for COVID-19. Continue to take precautions, as needed, for your own personal health.
5. There is a possibility that some or all scheduled events listed in this Newsletter may be cancelled or postponed due the Delta Variant of Coronavirus. We are monitoring local health conditions daily and will decide to go ahead or cancel events on an individual basis to ensure the health and safety of our members.

CBS GUARDIAN OF RIGHTEOUSNESS

Congregation Beth Shalom is pleased to honor MaryAnn Sherman with the coveted Guardian of Righteousness Award (Shomer Tzedek). This recognition will take place on Sunday, March 27, 2022, at the synagogue's 15th Annual Legacy Luncheon to be held at Eagle Glen Golf Club. Additional honorees are Marta Cortez, owner of Eduardo's Mexican Restaurant, who will receive the Business Partner Award (Shutuf Tzedek) and Sol Shapiro, CBS's Legacy Award recipient for 2022.

The article to the right is a condensed bio for MaryAnn Sherman describing some of the many contributions she has made to the Corona community.

Please contact Legacy Luncheon Chairpersons, Renee Miller (909) 228-5945 or Marci Rouman, (951) 733-3980 for information about the event and sponsorships.

MaryAnn (Calipinto) Sherman has been part of Corona history since 1966, managing her father's music store on Main Street, while also being an active member of St. Edwards Parish serving as a CCD teacher and Altar Boy coordinator. MaryAnn was active in her children's school PTA and then became employed with the CNUSD in 1989 and retired in 2014, as the librarian at Jefferson Elementary. Though a librarian, it was MaryAnn who coordinated all the school assemblies; bringing animals, planetariums, tide pools and many other educational programs to students who normally would not be able to see them. MaryAnn saw the challenges that children experienced in the school setting and always found ways to "meet" these challenges. She would often find resources of food, clothing and gifts and made sure that the less fortunate students received them; all done without fanfare. The result was being able to help the children and their families.

As a Corona Public Library Trustee, MaryAnn helped promote literacy in the Corona community via the many wonderful resources available through the public library. She was a wealth of support and knowledge helping with Jefferson Elementary's PTA for 25 years directing book fairs, Santa Shop, and movie nights just to name a few of the programs she spearheaded. You will see MaryAnn to this day dressing in costume whether as Mrs. Frizzle, The Cat in the Hat or Mrs. Claus at the annual Holiday assembly at Jefferson School. The love for the students at Jefferson radiates on MaryAnn's face. She is also a supporter of Peppermint Ridge which is home to individuals with intellectual disabilities. MaryAnn and her husband, Tom, were guardians for ten years to Tom's uncle who was a resident of Peppermint Ridge.

During retirement, MaryAnn started a "Cupcake Surprise" program where she surprised students who needed some special attention because of difficult situations they were experiencing such as being homeless or the serious illness of a parent, by recognizing their good behavior. Prior to her retirement, MaryAnn wondered what she would do when she retired and hoped to continue helping those in need. Still today, seven years later, you will find

MaryAnn and Tom Sherman

MaryAnn bringing in bags of groceries or clothing to a family who is in a difficult situation at Jefferson Elementary.

Still searching for more to do for the community she loves, MaryAnn was approached by a city official who had a desperate need. She was introduced to Veg-Fresh Farms, (which was relocated to Corona 5 years ago) a wholesale grocer, who also wanted to help the community. MaryAnn now heads a fruit and vegetable program for the needy in Corona that provides donations twice a month of 20,000 pounds of organic produce from Veg-Fresh. The produce is given to veterans, low-income families, senior citizens, YMCA, food pantries, and churches who feed those in need. Twice a month, many Corona non-profits meet MaryAnn at the Settlement House where the Veg-Fresh truck arrives with the treasured produce. MaryAnn determines the needs of each of the outreach volunteers who is assisting in the donation effort and gives them the amount needed to provide for those they serve. She leaves a portion of the produce for the Settlement House patrons so that they can now add fruits and vegetables to the grocery bags they give families. MaryAnn also fills up the back of her Jeep with produce that she personally delivers to families where there is a need as well as delivering produce to the families of Jefferson Elementary students.

For the past 9 years MaryAnn has helped coordinate the annual Teddy Bear Dinner where over one hundred local children receive a free Build-A-Bear, a spaghetti dinner, a bag of toys and an evening of fun. She just completed her fourth year of coordinating the annual Veteran's Christmas party at the Elks lodge. Veterans who are suffering from PTSD are invited to come to the event where their children and family members will receive boxes of toys, clothes and food provided by the Elks. Additionally, MaryAnn coordinates Veteran's socials at the Joe Dominguez American Legion Post 742 where veterans from World War II through the present come to socialize and share memories with other veterans and are served free coffee, pastries, and juice.

For the past 20 years, MaryAnn holds an annual toy giveaway for children at Christmas with hundreds of children being given the opportunity to select a toy for Christmas. Every year since 9-11, she places hundreds of American flags around Jefferson Elementary so that the students can feel the sense of pride when they see the waving flags. She gets the local fire, police, and ambulance service to participate in this effort. MaryAnn is 2nd Vice President of Blue Star Mothers as her son Tom is in the service. She assists in public relations for the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 742 and is an active member of Circle City Kiwanis.

MaryAnn's most recent community services awards include: 2018 Citizen of the Year by the Corona Chamber of Commerce, selection by the 60th Assembly member Sabrina Cervantes as Woman of the Year - 2019, Corona Elks 2018-2019 Distinguished Citizenship Award and named a Paul Harris Fellow by The Rotary Foundation of Rotary International. Most recently MaryAnn received the 23rd Ira D. Calvert Distinguished Service Award. She has received the Unity Award – Hometown Hero and has been recognized by Congress in the Congressional Record.

Always with a smile on her face, MaryAnn greets former students and their parents warmly when she sees them around town. She is a true advocate for those who need assistance. MaryAnn has been married to her husband, Tom, for 49 years. They have a son, Colonel Thomas Sherman, who is in the Air Force and is the Military Assistant to the Deputy Secretary of Defense at the Pentagon. They have a daughter, Nancy Sherman Kim, who is the Director of Clinical Operations for Cardiff Oncology.

Food for Thought: The Evolution of Today's Latkes

by Renée Ryan-Tieszen

With Chanukah just around the corner, thoughts of foods fried in oily goodness suddenly make your mouth water with great anticipation – especially the crunchy, yet creamy, scrumptious latkes. Who could ever imagine Chanukah without latkes? Believe it or not, latkes as we know them today are a comparably recent food to garnish the holiday table.

Latkes is the Yiddish word for levivot, which is first mentioned in 2 Samuel when Tamar made them for Amnon. These levivot were made with buckwheat or rye flour and water ladled in an oiled pan, but not fried in oil. This recipe is much like what we call pancakes today and are still commonly eaten in France.

It wasn't until the 1402 Megillah Yehudit of Provence was recited during Chanukah that levivot transformed again. Yehudit served levivot to the people's enemy, General Holofernes. She salted the levivot batter heavily and mixed it into a pot of cheese, or Cascio. Cascio, known as ricotta, was introduced to the Romans in 1492 by the Jews recently expelled from Spain. The popularity of these cheese levivot travelled as far east as Russia, Ukraine, and south to Israel. Cheese levivot are still served in these regions during Chanukah today.

Not until the 19th century was the potato introduced as a staple ingredient of levivot by the Germans. But, these potato levivot, now known as latkes, were still not fried in olive oil, instead being fried in schmaltz, or goose fat. For dairy meals, the fat was replaced with butter and served with sour cream while the former was served with applesauce. When olive oil became more plentiful and cheaper in the 20th century, many cooks switched to the healthier version of latkes fried in olive oil instead of schmaltz. Such is the modern version of the levivot, more popularly known as latkes. For a blast from the past, here are two earlier recipes for latkes.

Buckwheat Levivot (French Version)

From Joan Nathan's book,

Quiches, Kugels and Couscous: My Search for Jewish Cooking in France

Ingredients

- 1 c. buckwheat flour
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 2 large eggs
- 2 medium onions, grated
- Oil for frying
- Sour cream or applesauce for garnish, optional

Directions

1. Combine flour, salt, and baking powder together in a small mixing bowl.
2. Beat eggs. Add to flour mixture. Mix well. Stir onions into the batter.
3. Heat frying pan and add a thin layer of oil. Ladle about 2 tbsp. of batter into pan. Fry until golden, then flip and cook the second side, about 2 minute per side. Serve. Eat alone or garnish with sour cream and/or applesauce. Makes about a dozen levivot.

Cheese Levivot (Italian Jewish Version)

by Tori Avey | toriavey.com

Ingredients

- 1 cup whole milk ricotta/cottage cheese
- $\frac{3}{4}$  c. flour
- 3 large eggs
- 2 tbsp. granulated sugar
- 1 tsp. kosher salt
- $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. baking powder
- Nonstick cooking oil spray, for frying
- Sour cream and/or honey for garnish, optional

Directions

1. Combine first six ingredients in a food processor. Process the mixture for about 45 seconds until it forms into a thick batter, pausing occasionally to scrape the sides of the bowl.
2. Spray frying pan with nonstick cooking oil spray and set heat to medium.
3. Using 2 tbsp. batter per latke, pour in a circle the size of a silver dollar. Fry the latkes for 2-3 minutes on each side until they turn golden brown, testing to be sure they're cooked thoroughly. If the latkes are browning faster than they're cooking, lower the heat. Serve immediately. Cheese latkes can be eaten plain or topped with sour cream or a drizzle of honey.

Beyond the SYNAGOGUE

Camp Ramah

Molly Shapiro is one of the sweetest individuals you will come across. Her love for Judaism is matched by her outreach to help others. She was at Camp Ramah in CA during the first week of October and captured sharing her wisdom, insight and love for others.

Surprising Sol Shapiro

For those who know Sol Shapiro, it is very hard to surprise him, however his daughters Stephanie and Danielle, son Adam and wife Terri did just that... It was celebrating his 60th birthday, and doing it 3 days later seemed to be the perfect scenario. Clueless and going with the flow of their last minute change of plans, Sol entered the back yard of a dear friend, Mark Maes, to the shouts of SURPRISE. We wish Sol a very happy 60th and look forward to the amazing things he will accomplish during the coming years!

The Wall that Heals

In October, the City of Corona was able to sponsor the replica of the Vietnam Memorial. Called the Wall that Heals, this 3/4 sized memorial was displayed locally. CORONA was the ONLY city in CA during 2021. Many of our CBS members toured this wall. A huge shout out to Stephanie Shapiro who volunteered to stand guard between Midnight and 4AM. Visiting, listening to veterans who served sharing their stories and truly seeing transformation and healing before our very eyes, a great thank you to CORONA!

As Veterans Day is November 11, let us remember WHY this is a national holiday. When you see a Veteran, be sure to thank them for protecting our FREEDOMS.

To all Service Personnel—Welcome HOME!

Mark Fogel joins the ELKS

Congratulations to Mark Fogel as he recently joined the ELKS—Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks. Focused on raising funds for veterans, children and people of need, Mark's generosity and volunteerism will truly be utilized. Congratulations Mark!

Baseball Champs

Hamilton Friedberg, grandson of Joel and Cheryl Friedberg was the Co-MVP of the tournament which his team won in Las Vegas. He plays for the 14U MVP Hustle.

Hamilton had 9 hits in 13 at bats plus he walked 4 times, so he was on base 13 out of 17 plate appearances. In addition he had the 3 most important hits in the 3 games on Sunday.

In the quarterfinal game with his team losing 2-0 he hit a triple that scored 1 run and then he scored the tying run. The team won 4-2.

In the semifinal with the score 0-0 he singled in the 1st two runs and then scored the 3rd run. His team won 5-1. And in the final championship game he doubled with the score at 1-1 that led to the 2nd and 3rd runs scoring. The team won 6-1. He received a championship ring and the banner that said they were the tournament champions.

CONGRATULATIONS HAMILTON!

Shelving for Youth Room

Back room (aka Youth Room) gets a face lift. Recently some new shelving was added to create a new youth library. The shelving was donated but needs a coat of paint. Renée Tieszen and Arrianna Wolfe took on the task of repairing the book shelves. The job is still in progress and will be completed shortly.
